At the beginning of summer holidays we will be very pleased to welcome all participants of The International Music Master Classes in Brno.

The tuition takes place in the modern-equipped building of the Faculty of Music, Janáček Academy of Music and Performing Arts, and under professional supervision of experienced teachers and renowned artists.

The master classes are focused not only on interpretation of works by Czech composers, and other works from world repertoire, but also on methodology of the instrument.

The International Music Master Classes are open for the following disciplines: flute, piano, piccolo, violin, violoncello, voice, and chamber music (string quartet, piano trio, etc.).

We offer

- 5 lessons (recommended) in the duration of 45 minutes to every active participant (it is possible to combine lessons with and without accompanist); chamber ensembles are guaranteed five 90-minute lessons. The number of lessons can be reduced or extended, just as the participant wishes.
- the possibility to choose a tutor if there are more teachers in one discipline
- the opportunity to play at concerts which are organized daily during the course time
- a sufficient number of practice rooms and practice hours
- free access to any lessons and seminars of all disciplines, and to concerts organized within the master classes
- the opportunity to record a CD or DVD
- the possibility of studying in the library of JAMU and lending scores

In the end, every active participant will receive a certificate of participation in The International Music Master Classes.
